Young activist challenges Nazis in We Will Not Be Silent at Taproot Theatre

"Questions of faith, honor and courage are not new ones, and more relevant at this time in history than ever before. Intelligence is never boring, and psychological action is the most powerful ballast in a drama of ideas."

Washington Independent Review of Books

SEATTLE, WA – January 23, 2019 – Based on a true story of faith and moral courage, David Meyers' We Will Not Be Silent finds Sophie Scholl fighting for her life against a fascist regime. Scott Nolte, Taproot Theatre's Producing Artistic Director, will direct this historical drama.

Twenty-one-year-old Sophie Scholl is a college student, anti-Nazi Activist and, along with her brother, a member of The White Rose resistance. Charged with treason and held in a German prison, Sophie is forced to play a psychological game of cat and mouse as she fights for her life and soul with a Nazi interrogator. This emotionally charged story testifies to the courage that is sometimes required to live out your values.
