Acting Studio Summer Sound Design Intern Job Description

Department: Education & Outreach	Weekly Pay: $375/week
Supervisor: Director of Education & Outreach	Status: Contracted, Part-time
Job Description Revised February 2024	Location: Seattle, WA
Desired Start Date: June 17, 2024	Position Open Until Filled

Position Overview:

Acting Studio Summer Sound Design Interns are ambassadors of Taproot Theatre Company's Acting Studio, a program run by the Education and Outreach Department (E&O). Inside the classroom, they are responsible for supporting the growth and training of artists in Pre-K – 12th grade. While on-site they represent E&O to its students and their guardians/families. Summer Technical interns assist E&O and its Teaching Artists with the production and organization of its Summer Acting Studio programming. During the summer, the Acting Studio operates camps Monday – Friday, roughly 30 hours a week, mid-June – August. This position has 2 additional Saturday mornings (7/27 and 8/17). It is expected that applicants will be available the majority of that time and will be committed to the management and betterment of students of all ages. While Technical Interns may not get deliberate hands-on experience interacting with students, their primary role is designing and implementing those designs during plays, musicals, and theatrical materials. The Acting Studio's mission is to provide a nurturing environment for artists of all ages and experience levels. We teach theatre to develop creativity and storytelling, as well as show them the power of empathy and teamwork and how to be a positive force in this ever-changing world.
